Shaykhul-Islam Ibn Taymiyyah said: "As for the bones, horns, and nails of a dead animal and whatever is of the same nature, such as its hooves and the like, as well as its hair, feathers, and fur, the scholars held three opinions regarding the ritual purity of these two categories. First: that they are all ritually impure, which is the famous opinion of Ash-Shaafi'i as well as one of the opinions reported from Ahmad.

A pellet, in ornithology, is the mass of undigested parts of a bird's food that some bird species occasionally regurgitate. The contents of a bird's pellet depend on its diet, but can include the exoskeletons of insects, indigestible plant matter, bones, fur, feathers, bills, claws, and teeth. In falconry, the pellet is called a casting.

Saunders Solutions in Veterinary Practice consists of a series of practical handbooks on selected medical topics on specific veterinary problems. Case-based, this series is aimed at the small animal veterinary practitioner who has qualified less than 10 years and needs quick access to information and wants to increase his/her confidence on handling that range of cases that cover the spectrum that lies between the simple routine first opinion case and the referral. Saunders Solutions in Veterinary Practice provides additional knowledge that leads to improved skills and practice for veterinary practitioners. Not only practitioners, but also veterinary students nearing the end of their course will find this series very useful to brush up their knowledge in a particular area. The volumes are also written with the veterinary nurse in mind with a particular interest in a specific topic, using 'Nurse Boxes' in the text to guide them to the specific information they need.

- new approach: clinical cases offering examination, treatment options, clinical tips relevant for the general small animal veterinary practitioner – all case descriptions based on common template
- offers synoptic, easy accessible and essential information
- provides essential information on selected topics
- authorship ensures accuracy of information
- relevant to all general practitioners
- written to increase the skill and practice the general veterinary practitioner
- intend to meet CPD-need, but focus on: differential diagnosis and practical case handling
- offers self-assessment features at the end of every chapter making it relevant for veterinary students as well
- broad readership: practitioners and students indicated in the text by 'Notes for Vets'; nurses indicated in the text by 'Notes for Nurses' and pet owners indicated in the text by 'Notes for Pet Owners'
- handy format with flexi cover
- species covered to be limited to cats, dogs and rabbits
- full colour throughout

There are two major ideologies at play in our country right now, and they are diametrically opposed. Conservatism is minimalism and personal; Liberalism is expansive and group think. Conservatism is about small government controlled by the governed and personal responsibility. Liberalism is about expanding government and the government acting as caregiver and lack of personal responsibility (victimhood). In this work, I examine the major issues of the day and contrast the two ideologies using logic and sound thinking to come to a reasonable conclusion. The issues include: Are gays born that way or is it a choice? Since Darwin's theory is still theory, why does all of science rest on it? Regarding our universe, is it only Darwin or creationism? Is popular science scientific? Gun control or self-defense? Why does the Supreme Court rule the way it does? The NEA—who's the priority, students or teachers? The ACLU—protector or protagonist? Do we still need affirmative action? Do Liberals live in their own alternate universe? Are Black leaders stuck in the past? What about the Tea Party Movement? What is the military's place in modern life? Are America's best days in the past? These and other questions are examined in A Conservative Writes about Damn Near Everything. I stopped writing so I wouldn't have to delete Damn Near. I assume you're at least as smart as I am and are looking for more information. I believe I've delivered. Let's continue the conversation so we can figure the best way to return our country to its rightful place as preeminent among nations. That's the brilliance and prescience of our founders, our inheritance, and as proud Americans, our work order. We gave those with a different view an opportunity to show us their brighter tomorrow. What we got was potted meat for filet mignon. The experiment failed. Let's scrap it and get back to what works so we can get back to work. Let those who think "profit" is a four-letter word get rid of theirs; we'll keep ours and expand it. That's what Conservatism does. Viva la difference.

This book is fiction; it is in reference to our existence today. The insects, animals, birds, and one human (Mr. B) are struggling to balance themselves and control their environment. They must create a plan that will allow their beautiful and tranquil backyard to continue. The plan must also allow each one to continue with their inborn behaviors while altering their activities. The human believes in God, and the critters believe in nature. These properties must be reconciled before balance can be achieved. Separating their activities from their behaviors prove to be difficult. This is the lesson learned.
